I'd like to extend my warmest wishes to all members of the St. Mary & St. Mark Coptic Orthodox church community celebrating Christmas today.

It is a time of peace and unity, where in a normal year, friends and family would gather to celebrate the birth of Jesus Christ by observing rich cultural customs and traditions, while reflecting on the year past and giving thanks for all the blessings we enjoy in Edmonton.

I also know that this year's celebrations will be especially difficult after the loss of Pierre Farage. I would like to express my deepest sympathies to all members of our community that have been impacted by his loss. May we find strength in mourning, and learn from his positivity during these incredibly difficult times.

While celebrations are different this year, I hope that this time provides feelings of peace, joy, and reflection, and that we can celebrate in the hope and many blessings of a new year.

I have enjoyed spending time with so many of you to discuss important issues, and look forward to doing that again soon. Wishing you and the entire St. Mary & St. Mark Coptic Orthodox Church community a very blessed Christmas, and a Happy New Year.

Sincerely,

Hon. Tim S. Uppal, P.C.
